Jonas ma asks court to dismiss military petition

EDITA BURGOS

THE MOTHER OF MISSING activist Jonas Burgos has asked the Court of Appeals to dismiss a petition from the military that the appellate court reconsider its resolution directing the military to release the Provost Marshal General report concerning a set of missing car plates in the military's custody that figured in the Burgos abduction.

In her petition, Edita Burgos denounced the Armed Forces for "flip-flopping" on the issue of whether or not to release the report, pointing out that Chief of Staff Gen. Hermogenes Esperon Jr. has already signified his intention to make the document public.

"To argue now that the report cannot be released, despite what the Chief of Staff of the Armed Forces of the Philippines himself has said, is, at the very least, confusing," Edita said.

The AFP, through the Office of the Solicitor General, has appealed the appellate court's resolution denying the military's motion to quash the subpoena for the report of Provost Marshal General Col. Arthur Abadilla.

Motion to quash

In denying the motion to quash, the appellate court said the life and liberty of Jonas took precedence and that the military had failed to show what injury it would suffer, save perhaps for the embarrassment of the people involved in the investigation, if the report was released.

Edita disputed the OSG's argument that the subpoena for the report invalidated the Memorandum Circular 78 that the latter had cited as basis for not releasing the confidential document.

She pointed out that the memorandum circular does not absolutely prohibit the disclosure of classified information.

Not absolute

Edita also contested the OSG's argument that the right to information was not absolute, saying that there is no blanket prohibition on the disclosure of classified information.

"The prohibition refers to public officials and employees using information for their own interest or prejudicial to 'public interest,'" she said.

The continued insistence that Abadilla does not have custody of the report was also another baffling claim, she said, as it was Abadilla himself who conducted the investigation and produced the report, and that Esperon would not have had a copy of it were it not for Abadilla. —Leila B. Salaverria

Troublesome Japanese to be deported

By Margaux C. Ortiz

THE BUREAU OF Immigration is set to deport a Japanese national who allegedly caused trouble in his neighborhood in Davao for the past three years.

Immigration Commissioner Marcelino Libanan said Shin Komatsu, 55, is detained at the BI jail in Bicutan, Taguig City pending deportation proceedings.

Libanan said the native was arrested last Aug. 29 at his house in Babadan, Davao del Sur by operatives of the bureau's Migration Compliance and Monitoring Group following complaints from his neighbors who accused him of being "a troublesome drunkard."

"There is no doubt that he had become a public charge and his continued presence in the country is causing trouble and giving unnecessary burden to residents in his neighborhood," Libanan said in a statement.

Komatsu's neighbors earlier submitted to the bureau a petition calling for the deportation of the Japanese national "for being an undesirable alien."

According to the petition, Komatsu has been overstaying in the country for the past three years.

Libanan said Komatsu had been the subject of complaints filed with the local police, including arson charges in July 2003 when he allegedly burned a house along Villa Street.

The Japanese national again was arrested last May 2 in the house of his landlord after joining a drinking session.

Immigration records showed that Komatsu arrived in the country in July 2004 and married a Filipina who is working in Japan.

"The Japanese national, however, could not produce his passport during his arrest, making him an undocumented alien," Libanan said.

Stocks rally to 8-week high

BROKERS discuss the day's trade on the floor of the Philippine Stock Exchange in Makati City. Stock markets across Asia yesterday logged record highs with financial stocks leading and the dollar steadying amid signs of stabilization in economy and credit markets.

Across Asia, stock markets powered to record peaks

THE STOCK MARKET surged to its highest close in eight weeks, buoyed by bets of another US interest rate cut after US consumer durable goods declined in August, rekindling worries over an economic slowdown in the United States.

Of course, it's best to remember that retro references in fashion will work only when they're not taken literally. A good mix of retro and modern pieces (say, a swing jacket a la Jackie O paired with edgy skinny jeans) will always lend a more interesting, fashion-forward appeal.

So, while looking to the past for inspiration, layer a little of the here and now (and of the future, even!) for a look that's style-savvy, up-to-the-minute and still fashionably fun!

INNOVATIVE URBAN ELEGANCE defines ck Calvin Klein for women for Fall 2007.

Clean, modern shapes draw inspiration from architecture and sculpture. New pared-down silhouettes with volume and drape replace embellishment and adornment. Fabrics are technical, sculptured, bonded and compact in cashmere, scuba stretch, wool and poly crepe, lacquered leather, silk, organza, nylon, [illegible] weight cottons, and [illegible].

The high-performance technological material treats an updated, modern American style. Oversized volumes balance slimmer silhouettes, with [illegible] in felted cashmere and wool [illegible] with bands for [illegible] and [illegible].

Silhouettes are cut with precision. Funnel necks and sculptured [illegible] on outerwear give a modern edge. Lacquered chiffon, metallicized velvets and liquid jerseys are used for asymmetric cut tops and dresses for day and evening.

There are subtle utilitarian details throughout. The color palette is restrained and somber, with rich shades of midnight, navy, and indigo mixed with essential black and tones of grays with bronze metallic touches. Pants are skinny or voluminous with pleats, but always masculine. The classic pencil skirt is rendered modern in sophisticated fine [illegible] paired with an oversized hooded lacquered nylon blouson.

Sculpted dresses and high-waisted skirts worn with asymmetrical tops make for evening wear. Bags are oversized, in [illegible] and [illegible] in metallics. Starry, starry launch

KASHIECA endorser Bea Alonzo on the runway

RAIN COULD NOT STOP fans from trooping to the TriNoma Activity Center for the launching of movie stars Bea Alonzo and John Lloyd Cruz as endorsers for fashion brands Kashieca and Bench, respectively.

True to the Ben Chan tradition, Suyen Corporation welcomed the two celebrities as image models for its apparel lines with a fun and fun-filled fashion show.

Finalists in the Bench-sponsored model search for the ABS-CBN reality TV show "Be Bench" also walked the runway with the latest Kashieca and Bench collections.

"All the clothes are in the stores now," said Chan who had the outlets to maximize the mileage he would get from the mall show.

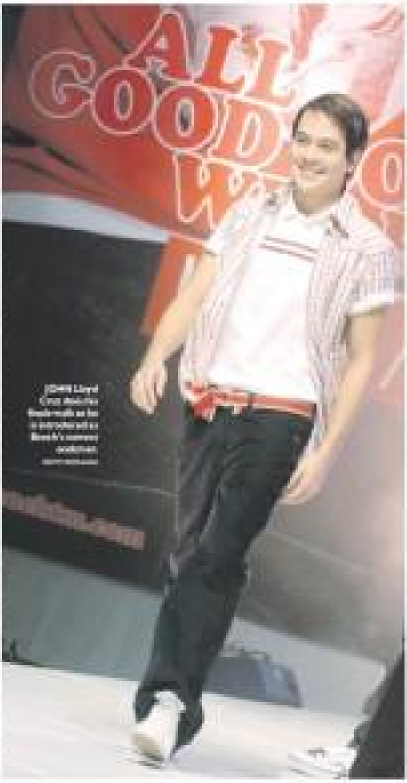

Alonzo and Cruz both lingered around to sign autographs for fans, most of whom followed them into the Kashieca and Bench stores.

"I am so pleased to have found a brand that fits me well," said Alonzo. "Kashieca's clothes are so easy to put together because they have clean lines and a lot of fun details. These pieces are great for me and for my daily work. I may be young but I still need to look well put-together."

Chan said Alonzo personified the Kashieca style—fresh, feminine and fun. The new Lover line has added glamour to the collection.

As for Cruz, he was a fitting addition to the Bench roster of celebendorsers, according to Chan. Cruz is the biggest star du jour, judging by the roaring welcome he got from the crowd.

"We choose the best because we believe in excellence," said Chan. "From our designs to our workmanship to our product, Bench has always ensured the best quality. We do it for our consumers. We want them to be happy with the Bench name as a whole."

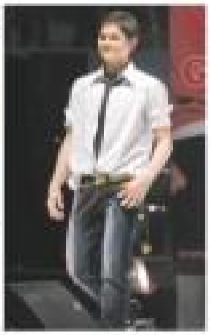

JOHN Lloyd Cruz dons the fresh look as he is introduced as Bench's newest endorser.

GRAPHIC and geometric prints plus dress with blouson sleeves

'70s glamour, medieval retro

MEDIEVAL EMBELLISHMENT MEETS retro-1970s glamour and military decoration mixes with traditional plaids and checks in the latest collection from Dorothy Perkins, as modeled by Heather Marks.

Graphic and geometric prints update dresses while blouson sleeves add character to eye-catching blouses. Prints are blurred and painterly, as colors and pattern merge into one on tunics.

For a relaxed effect, try denim in primary colors teamed with a T-shirt dress or the must-have playsuit. Jeans are high-waisted and slimming, while skirts with braces look casual and laid-back.

As the season progresses, styles are updated with hardware trims. Buckles and metallic fastenings are inspired by an eclectic mix of armory and metal adornment. Metallic jersey pieces add a contemporary feel to stylish separates, such as the belted feature through military jacket.

For those cold days, wrap up in chunky knits layered under coats. Knitted dresses are wardrobe must-haves and range from dressed-up glitter-flecked styles to stylish belted grey options and the looser cable-knit jumper dresses in cream.

Quilted leather jackets come in tartan checks while belted and cropped metallic leather jackets with fluted sleeves create sharp silhouettes. The belted wool coat in citrus makes a striking impact worn with long black leather gloves.

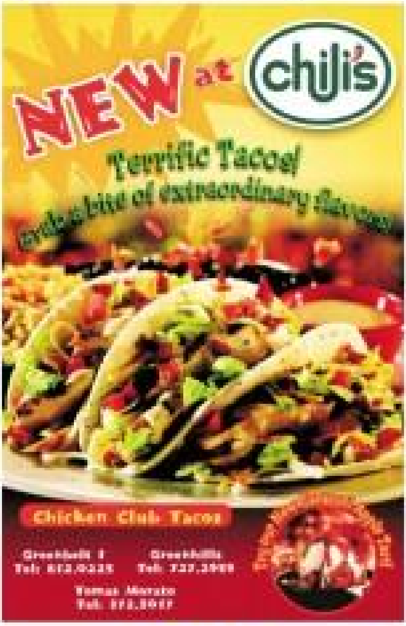

Luxe fabrics add texture with velvets, jersey and lurex knits. Roman and mosaic-inspired necklines with metallic studs and jeweled embellishment add theatrical detail to voluminous shapes. The predominantly dark palette is lifted by dazzling jewel tones of jade and cited here.

The party season arrives early with border print dresses, chunky cowl necks and sequin shimmer T-shirt dresses. Choose from the purple paisley print tunic, the black satin dress with graphic print trim or the ornate black jersey halter-neck with jewels around the neckline.

Robinsons Specialty Stores Inc. is the exclusive franchisee of Dorothy Perkins, Topman, Topshop, Warehouse and Wallis in the Philippines.

WHEN IT COMES TO ROLLING out the red carpet, Marlboro does it with true flavor and style, dahlings. Thus, our town's latest cool spot by the bay, 1 Esplanade, played host to Marlboro's M Party.

The event pulled out all stops—even featuring dancers performing in [illegible]. There were endless flows of booze and [illegible] sessions by the internationally acclaimed DJ duo, Deep Dish.

Only red-hot, hardcore party goers, who were the chosen few, came to this exclusive by-invitation-only event. They settled down with cool cocktails and yummy hors d'oeuvres, [illegible] the whole thing was awesome and adrenaline pumping, pahingigan. We could expect only the unexpected.

Local master of mixes, DJ Kevin Pioli, got us going with his beats, while Ibiza's Café Mambo resident Pete Gooding prepared some music sessions, which had many of us partying down to smooth M-style, dahlings.

Chris Nielsen, Marlboro managing director of Philip Morris Philippines Manufacturing Inc., said, "The Marlboro spirit is all about [illegible] and dynamism and this is what the M Party series brings. We want it to become the [illegible], the party series that people will follow because it's the 'in' thing to be at." Aaron, dahlings.

That hot night, Marlboro delivered the goods, pahingigan, with such style.

Sparkling evening

Even before she boarded it—[illegible], pahingigan, [illegible]—I could already feel that it was going to be a night sparkling with beauty and glamour.

It was the night when Bulgari unveiled the new chic 2007 Parentesi collection, at Greenbelt 4, Ayala Center, Makati.

The invitees couldn't get enough of the exclusive preview of dazzling jewelry, which are now available in Manila, pahingigan.

Some of the most eye-catching models hovered around wearing the awesome new pieces. The show was choreographed by Jackie Aquino. The models' hair was done by [illegible].

The hallway was lined with tables of yummy cocktails from The Peninsula Manila—from smoked duck breast on toasted brioche [illegible] to Cajun salmon brochette. Topping it off were the [illegible] desserts, like Peninsula ice cream pralines, pistachio macaroons and plus, plus, pahingigan.

Moët Hennessy through Olga Azarcon provided the super chilled Moët & Chandon champagne and Belvedere vodka. [illegible] Eliza Real brought in Hardys Shiraz and Chardonnay wines.

"The new classic Bulgari 2007 Parentesi collection is [illegible] to give each piece a bold, modern look," said Bulgari's [illegible] Mario Katigbak, [illegible].

Check out Bulgari boutiques for your holiday season shopping, pahingigan, at the 6750 Shopping Arcade (tel. [illegible]) and Greenbelt 4, Ayala Center, Makati ([illegible]).

Metro hiM anniversary

The Rockwell Tent was brimming with men of [illegible] who, despite the pouring rain, [illegible] to witness the "Tine Gentlemen" awarded as Platinum Men of Metro hiM, dahlings.

The occasion marked Metro hiM's [illegible] anniversary. The night honored eight gentlemen who know the importance of [illegible] beauty, and the environment and [illegible] mind and body.

The event was co-presented by [illegible].

Metro hiM's eight Platinum Men consisted of [illegible] [illegible]

We were then ushered into the [illegible] gallery section of the Rockwell Tent, where we sipped our cocktail drinks while we checked the photos of the eight men [illegible]

Battle of the rappers

LONDON—KANYE WEST has BEATEN 50 Cent in the British leg of their much-hyped "battle of the rappers" after his new album "Graduation" went straight to number one in its first week. Chicago rapper West outsold his New York rival's latest release, "Curtis," which got the number two spot, the Official UK Charts Company said on Sunday. The showdown attracted huge media attention around the world after 50 Cent suggested to an interviewer that he would stop his solo career if he lost the race for the top spot. Figures due to be released later on Sunday are expected to show that West also sold more than 50 Cent, [illegible] in the United States. Reuters
